

2022 Media Partner Award: Jennifer Lewis-Hall

---

Network Television Journalist | PHL17

Jennifer Lewis-Hall is the host and producer of PHL17's public affairs program "Politics in Focus" in Philadelphia where she shines a spotlight on issues impacting our communities. In 2022, Jennifer who is also the Manager of Community Affairs was inducted into the Mid-Atlantic Emmy's Silver Circle, a tremendous honor recognizing television professionals who made significant contributions to the industry and the community for twenty-five years or more. This year, Jennifer was also awarded a Pennsylvania Broadcasters Award for Outstanding Television Feature Story for her story "Two Women on the Frontlines of the Opioid Epidemic."

Jennifer holds a master's degree in Journalism from Northwestern University and a bachelor's degree from Rutgers University. She has been a news anchor, correspondent, and reporter for over three decades working at networks in New York and Philadelphia. She is the author of three books, including a new children's story, "The Tale of the Sly Mongoose: Bianca and the Anguilla Island Adventures." Hosting and producing special programs and reports on issues including the opioid epidemic, gun violence, education, health, and literacy are among the many areas where Jennifer raises awareness.

Ms. Lewis-Hall has received many awards and accolades, including the Camden County Medal of Freedom in 2021. Jennifer, a community leader, and extraordinary communications professional also recently finished serving two terms on the Rutgers University Board of Trustees. She is a speaker sought after by Fortune 500 companies, nonprofit and national organizations.