Community Conversation: Grief Through the Lens - Latino Resources

- Date - September 23, 2021
- Author - Eluna
- Topic - Childhood Grief
- Type - Video

Sorry, no video was found.

The Eluna Resource Center’s Grief Through the Lens series explores the rich diversity of cultural traditions and values that inform children’s response to death and bereavement. The upcoming Eluna Community Conversation will build cultural competency and deepen empathy as well as recognize the universal aspects of children’s grief.

Please join us for our next Eluna Community Conversation which will be a special gathering aimed at exploring the Latino culture’s unique response to death and grief. Our panel of experts will highlight Latino core values as well as cultural, spiritual, and lingual nuances in the landscape of children’s grief. In addition, the conversation will consider the universality of grief, regardless of someone’s cultural background.

Bereavement support professionals, volunteers, community organizations, and allies are invited to deepen their understanding of how to support grieving Latino children and families.

Resources to support Latino Children and Families include:

- Grief Through the Lens of Latino Culture
- 10 Things Grieving Children Want You to Know - En Español: 10 Cosas Que Los Niños/as/xs Afligidos Quieren Que Sepa
- Seven Suggestions for Explaining Death to Children - En Español: Siete Sugerencias para Explicar la Muerte a los Niños/as/xs
- Developmental Grief Responses - En Español: Respuestas al Desarrollo del Dolor
- When Someone Dies - a Workbook - En Español: Cuando Muere Alguien: Un Libro de Actividades para Niños/as/xs y Cuidadores
- Talking with Children about Tragic Events - Hablando Con Los Niños/as/xs Sobre Eventos Trágicos