Roberta's House is our Camp Erin partner in Baltimore. Through Roberta’s House, a Baltimore based family grief support center, founded in 2007, children and families in underserved communities who’ve experienced a loss, learn healthy coping skills. Their free programs are made available to entire communities. Roberta's House staff are healing the bereaved through their peer support services. Roberta's House offers summer camps, survivor’s home visitation, volunteer trainings, support services to school systems, professional seminars, workshops and bereavement ministry support. Roberta's House's core value is HOPE: Honoring the memory of those who have died by offering opportunities to learn positive and empowering grief experiences.
